GET THE SCOOP ON THE 6 TWILIGHT GIRLS' TO-DIE-FOR LOOKS!

BY BROOKE SAGER

This November, the ever-popular vampire crew returns as Part One of The Twilight Saga: Breaking Dawn hits the big screen. All six leading ladies (vamps and humans alike!) have locks that are looking as stylish as ever, both on camera and on the red carpet. Want to know how they get their tresses looking so gorgeous? We have their cut, color and style 411!

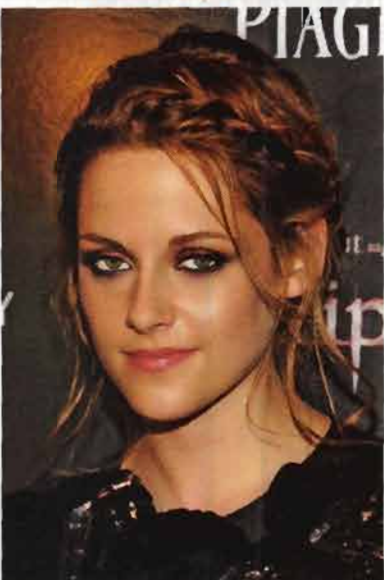

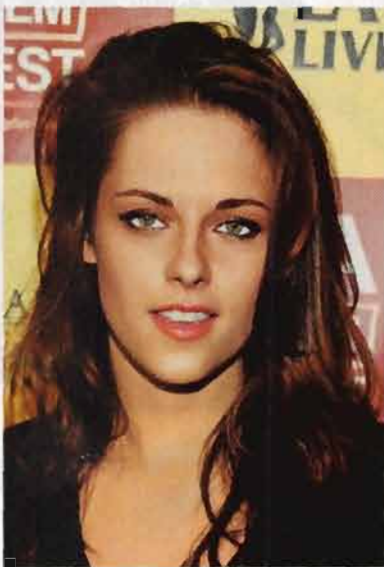

Kristen Stewart AS BELLA SWAN

Back to Bella: Not too long ago, Kristen dabbled in a strawberry-blonde hue that's closer to her natural color (yes, Kristen is a natural blonde!) But as Breaking Dawn's mane girl, Kristen was brought back to that signature dark "Bella" color for filming, with the help of Jennifer J, L'Oréal Professionnel celebrity colorist.

Feel the Warmth: To keep Kristen's bed-head waves in tip-top shape, Jennifer opted for a semi-permanent color. "I used a warm, amber brown all over, then painted highlights around her hairline to keep the look warm and fresh," she says.

Tress Confidential: We caught up with Bonnie Clevering, Kristen's personal stylist on all the Twilight movies who's currently working with the actress in London on Snow White & the Huntsman. "Kristen has silky-soft strands of medium thickness—it's not too thick, but enough to be very workable," Clevering explained. Her Breaking Dawn cut had a few long layers with ends that were tapered out and not blunt to give it more movement. Her on-set styling routine began with some Purity Design Mousse from It&ly Hair Fashion to "give her more body, and sometimes I'd add some diluted gel before blow-drying." Occasionally, Clevering would augment Kristen's look with extensions, depending on whether it was worn up or down, or in braids.

Top: Kristen's without-a-care waves are simple but sultry. Bottom: With her dark hair worn in a messy-on-purpose updo, the star's dramatic eye makeup is spot on.

When playing Bella, simple styles help showcase her natural beauty.

Christina Applegate

THEN: Platinum-n-Puffy

Christina started out with platinum blonde shoulder-length hair and puffy bangs when she played promiscuous numbskull Kelly Bundy on Married...With Children.

NOW: Smooth-n-Natural

Up All Night's Reagan is neither slutty nor self-centered—she's a serious working girl who doesn't have time to tease. Her dimensional blonde hair with highlights and lowlights is worn in straight, angled layers that begin just below the chin.

STEAL HER STYLE: Blow hair toward the face with a large round brush, then use a flat iron and smoothing paste for straightness with shine (try It&ly HairFashion Purity Definition Paste, $15; italyhairfashion.com). Tuck long bangs to one side with a pin.

Christina's Beauty Advice

• “[One of my splurges] is a shower gel called COMO Shambhala. It smells like eucalyptus and makes me pretend I'm in a spa!” (shop.como.bz for pricing and availability).

• “Don't be afraid of leave-in conditioner! I use this stuff called It's a 10. It's totally cheesy-looking, but it's a miracle product and smells good.” Proceeds go to Christina's foundation, Right Action for Women, which helps women get breast cancer screening ($17.96; visit Itsa10haircare.com for availability).

Christina's Color Preference

“Christina always goes for a more natural look and she doesn't like a lot of upkeep,” says Nelson Chan, who owns Nelson JSalon in Beverly Hills, CA and has colored her hair.

“Right now, Christina's hair color is mini ombre (darker on the root) with two-tone highlights (soft beige and light blonde). It's perfect for her natural dark blonde hair. It is more like her hair was when she was 12-years-old in the summer out in the sun, naturally lightening up to a sun-kissed look.”
